General Marking Guidance

- All candidates must receive the same treatment. Examiners must mark the first candidate in exactly the same way as they mark the last.
- Mark schemes should be applied positively. Candidates must be rewarded for what they have shown they can do rather than penalised for omissions.
- Examiners should mark according to the mark scheme not according to their perception of where the grade boundaries may lie.
- There is no ceiling on achievement. All marks on the mark scheme should be used appropriately.
- All the marks on the mark scheme are designed to be awarded. Examiners should always award full marks if deserved, i.e. if the answer matches the mark scheme. Examiners should also be prepared to award zero marks if the candidate's response is not worthy of credit according to the mark scheme.
- Where some judgement is required, mark schemes will provide the principles by which marks will be awarded and exemplification may be limited.
- When examiners are in doubt regarding the application of the mark scheme to a candidate's response, the team leader must be consulted.
- Crossed out work should be marked UNLESS the candidate has replaced it with an alternative response.

0 0 marks	No rewardable material
1 1-3 marks	A few key points identified, or one point described in some detail. The answer is likely to be in the form of a list. Only one viewpoint considered. Points made will be superficial/generic and not applied/directly linked to the situation in the question.
	At the bottom of this level only one point will be identified.
	At the top of this level three or more points/data will be listed or 2 points made, one of which has some development.
2 4-6 marks	Some points identified, or a few key points described. Consideration of more than one viewpoint but there will be more emphasis on one of them. The answer is unbalanced. Most points made will be relevant to the situation in the question, but the link will not always be clear.
	At the bottom of this level two points will be listed with some development or use of the given data but this will not necessarily support the answer well.
	At the top of this level the answer will have three or more points with some development. There will be use of the given data. An attempt has been made to come to a conclusion.
3 7-8 marks	Range of points described, or a few key points explained in depth. All sides of the case are considered and the answer is well-balanced, giving weight to all viewpoints. The majority of points made will be relevant and there will be a clear link to the situation in the question.
	At the bottom of this level the data is used to support the discussion and some justification is given. Answers will be well developed.
	At the top of this level a clear discussion with full justification is produced providing a well developed answer.

1 1-3 marks	Basic arguments on both sides identified, or only one side considered. The answer is likely to be in the form of a list. Points made will be superficial/generic and not applied/directly linked to the situation in the question. No conclusion produced or the conclusion a consequence of only one side of the argument being considered.
	identified.
	Isted or two issues/action will be identified with some superficial development.
2 4-6 marks	Arguments for and against are described, but there will be more emphasis on one side than the other. The answer will be unbalanced. A conclusion is present, but this is either implicit or as a result of unbalanced consideration of the arguments. There is little or unfocused justification of the conclusion. Most points made will be relevant to the situation in the question, but the link will not always be clear.
	At the bottom of this level no conclusion will be given or the conclusion will be irrelevant/generic/unsupported by a balanced argument. The argument may be balanced. There will be some development. Some use of given data but this may not necessarily support the argument well.
	At the top of this level a conclusion will be presented but this will not be supported by a balanced argument/will not be explicitly stated. There has been some development of the argument but this is likely to be unbalanced. There will be some use of given data to support the argument.
3 7-8 marks	Balanced explanation of both sides for and against. A conclusion is produced which is justified clearly linked to the consideration of arguments for and against, and their relative importance to the situation. The majority of points made will be relevant and there will be a clear link to the situation in the question.
	At the bottom of this level a relevant supported conclusion is produced the argument is balanced and developed. At the top of this level a clear conclusion is produced which is fully justified by well balanced, developed arguments.
